

WALKER STANDSTILL, the product design division of Glickman Schlesinger Design Office, is proud to bring a line of greeting cards to market. Each card depicts a beloved place, drawn from a map, in the language of 18th century silhouette portraiture. Giving a location a persona, the cards allow us to express our love of a place as if it was an old family relative. The maps are rotated to show what we think is the most ideal portrait for the place. Letterpressed in New York City on 100 pound white paper, the cards are blank inside and packaged with a 100% recycled brown bag envelope in biodegradable plastic. Current retail locations are listed on our website. For wholesale prices, bulk, custom orders, and tote bags please contact us.
